Skin Rejuvenation; Exfoliation

"Exfoliation is the process of removing dead skin cells from the outer layer of your skin. While some people believe that this improves the appearance of their skin, it's not for everyone and – if not done properly – could do more harm than good. Mechanical exfoliation uses a tool, such as a brush or sponge, or a scrub to physically remove dead skin cells. Chemical exfoliation uses chemicals, such as alpha and beta hydroxy acids, to gently dissolve dead skin cells."

Clinical Results and Benefits

The Multiderm™ represents a true breakthrough in skin exfoliation and skin care. Because of its multiple capabilities, the Multiderm™ can exfoliate, similar to a microdermabrader, while at the same time infuse topical moisturizers and topical anesthetics, as well as act as an excellent pre-treatment modality for laser and IPL procedures.

Using the patented Multiderm™ system, the entire exfoliation and infusion process takes less than 11 minutes on the face compared with 35 to 45 minutes with outdated suction microdermabrasion. The massage-like treatment is extremely comfortable for patients, thus eliminating a harsher, rougher treatment used by existing suction microdermabrasion for better skin care.

Why AfterGlow Aesthetics™ Chose MultiDerm™ Over Traditional Diamond Tip/Suction Microdermabrasion

| Safety  | Clients receive their own exfoliation paddle, eliminating potential for cross contamination. Polishing surface designed to maintain even pressure and surface area coverage to prevent accidental skin injuries and streaking over small and large areas. No suction or crystals used with MultiDerm, offering effective, low impact exfoliation for special needs skin. |
| Functions | MultiDerm effective for gentle exfoliation & product infusion for face and body. |
| Immediate & Consistent Results | Gently exfoliates epidermis using a large surface surface-area paddle, providing even contact and pressure decreasing the potential for streaking and skin injuries. Traditional microdermabrasion devices require a high level of user training and expertise while MultiDerm is designed for consistent, safe and effective results when used by a licensed skin care professional |
| Multi Use | Large and small surface areas may be treated quickly. (face, back, arms, legs etc.) Produces immediate and lasting results when used alone and enhances results in combination other esthetic procedures such as enzyme and chemical peels, treatment masques and serums. |
| Special Care Options | Clients interested in a gentle and effective facial rejuvenation procedure seeking a results oriented, less aggressive option to traditional microdermabrasion or seek that can be combined with other services should consider a MultiDerm facial from AfterGlow Aesthetics. |
